

Terms of use

- The Green Inclusive Finance Training can be used free of charge.
- By using the Green Inclusive Finance Training, or any part of it, you agree to acknowledge the work of the GICSF-AG. When using the Green Inclusive Finance Training, the following acknowledgement should be included:

“The Green Inclusive Finance Training has been developed by the e-MFP Green Inclusive and Climate-Smart Finance Action Group (GICSF-AG)”.

- The e-MFP Green Inclusive and Climate-Smart Finance Action Group (GICSF-AG) is the owner of this training. Its name must be included and acknowledged in every copy and use of the present training. Nevertheless, the training also contains material of GICSF-AG members, as well as other sector stakeholders. All sources are acknowledged, to the extent possible. We thank all stakeholders whose work contributed to the material presented in this training. All materials in the training module that are the intellectual property of other third parties remain the property of those third parties, and there is no transfer of intellectual property for those items. The sources of the material and the intellectual property references in the slides must be maintained and acknowledged in every copy and use of the present training module. The authors of the training module must be included and acknowledged in every copy and use of the present training module.